Nufactor Receives URAC's Leaders in Performance Measurement 2021 Pioneer Award

Temecula, Calif. — Nufactor, Inc., a specialty infusion company and subsidiary of FFF Enterprises Inc., is pleased to announce that it has been named a 2021 Pioneer in the URAC Leaders in Performance Measurement (LPM) recognition program.

URAC is the country's foremost independent health care accreditation organization that establishes quality standards to deliver a higher quality of care for all. Nufactor has earned URAC's Specialty Pharmacy Accreditation for its commitment to excellence in overall patient care.

"Nufactor is proud to be recognized by our accrediting body URAC with its Pioneer award. We understand the importance of submitting exploratory measures to improve the quality of patient care," says Joe DiStefano, RPh IgCP® CSP, vice president, clinical programs. "Our voluntary participation is another example of Nufactor striving for superior patient care and following our parent company's motto of Helping Healthcare Care®."

URAC's Pioneer award recognizes organizations that have made significant contributions to improving performance measurement within accreditation programs. These organizations engage in activities beyond the mandatory reporting requirements, such as submitting exploratory measures that provide insight into cutting-edge measurement concepts.

"Through the introduction of our Leaders in Performance Measurement program, URAC is recognizing the commitment of URAC-accredited organizations who are promoting trust in the quality of care delivered through performance measurement activities," says Shawn Griffin, MD, president, and CEO.
